February 13, 2011 Sixth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Sirach 15:15-20 • Psalm 119:1-2, 4-5, 17-18, 33-34 • 1 Corinthians 2:6-10 • Matthew 5:17-37

Our faith marks our lives – or at least it should.

If we believe in a God who is merciful, sincere and just, we cannot be unmerciful, insincere and unjust. Faith finds its expression in the lives of all those who believe in God. We are certainly people with a sense of reality – otherwise we would not be fit for modern societies. Although we need this sense of reality, people of faith also need a sense of potentiality: of what is possible, desirable and what we aspire to do.

As believers, we do not only see what the world is like now, but what the world could and should be like. We thirst for justice, wanting everyone to be treated justly. We see the possibilities, the potentiality for change and we aspire for it. In our eyes, the future is not determined, fixed, finished and automatic like a machine. We do not capitulate in front of the future. As believers, we can leave out-trodden ways – without being mere dreamers. As believers, we see hope, future and open horizons where others don't. As believers we see the potentiality of our world – and we try to follow and live up to what Jesus said to his friends: Do not use violence, be merciful, have a pure heart, promote peace and justice. This is the wish and the vision of Jesus.

OUR COMMUNITY: The All Saints Catholic Community is based on the principle that we, the Community, willingly take on all the responsibilities of running our own Community and supporting our Celebrants. The All Saints Coordinators, whose contact telephone numbers are shown overleaf, guide groups of volunteers in meeting our needs and those of our Celebrants. Please volunteer to help that group to which you feel you can most contribute. Contact the All Saints Coordinator responsible for the group.

We wish Cardinal Sterzinsky well on his 75th birthday and for his recovery
